Griffith High is really a nifty place to get an education . . . if you like hard work, big books, smiles, and friendship.

Classes and activities stimulate the atmosphere we wouldn't be without. If these were missing, neither school nor students would function properly.

Teachers are lots of fun too; without them homework and big exoms wouldn't exist, then neither would the fun or componionship we share together. This is GHS and we like it here.

Teachers play important roles at Griffith High School. They spanner clobs and special activities, but what some production of the special sources are supported with the special sources and sources with with the best education possible. Most teachers supplement their own education in order to accomplish this. Mour belief the special sources are supported to the obstain their Materis's Ougree by attending night and summer school. It is not unusual for a closel to spend many ware hours preparing interesting lessons for the need only a closes.

Classes are canducted in a unique manner at Griffith because most classes are held on an informal basis. Class and panel discussions are frequent accurrences also, but most students regard them as necessary evils.

Mr. Ballov further discusses on economics problem with Gall Hunt.

Activities may be defined as what keeps the students going. They serve to break up the monotomy of going to closses and doing homework, and also as a voluable part in our life. They prepare us for the future, and may even help us decide an what came may even help us decide an what came may even help us decide an what career to fallow. Here at GHS there are always plenty of things to do and places to go. Students enjoy the variety of activities offered and always hape they'll remain in great abundance.

Pramoting school spirit is the primory purpose of Booster Club. This year the Boaster Club did more than cliffall its dury. Supporting the boys during every game until the very end, victory or defect, the Booster Club was olways there, scrooming with the cheerleaders and showing pride in their school.

Membership was open to any Griffith Senior High student. This year's Booster Club consisted mostly of active members who attended games and meetings reqularly and beloed promote school spirit-Students were considered active members when they had earned 50 points or more. These were earned by cheering in the Booster Club section, making pasters, and ottending meetings. These points determined eligibility for sectional tickets and also qualified members to receive pins. Because this system was put into practice this year, 75 points were required of any luniar or senior wanting a pin and 200 of any saphamare and all future members.

Mass meetings were called whenever necessary by President Jenny Vojdo, with the approval of Miss Klein, sponsor,

Performing In Concerts Keep Band In Shape

"Bandl Attention!" were words frequently heard around marching season, as any member can tell you. Carrect spacing, hitting each yard line with the carrect feat, and playing as loud as possible all combined to make a good Band member.

This year the Band put an extra flare in their marching by adding patterns of motion to their routines. The "Hot Dag" pattern was their fovorite, and simply by starting in different positions the band was able to create hundreds of geometric.

This year's Band participated in the December 4 Hammand parade. This parade was televised by Channel 9.

After marching season the Band ventured inside where they transformed themselves into a Concert Band. Their three concerts, held in December, March, and May, kept everyone busy for the re-

Junior English classes started the year by dividing into two main groups, one reading An American Tragedy and the other reviewing basic parts of grammar. However, study in grammar was perhaps the most praminent factor of the year's work

Highlights of the senior English classes included a study of early and medieval literature, and a traditional reading of the play MacBeth, a general review of grammar, practice in speech making, and a unit on short stories.

During warm weather the classes made use of the patia by spending their reading periods out there.

Biology experienced a year of reorganization as students gove extra hours helping catalog books and equipment.

Field trips to Cadle Marsh Ditch and Horseshoo Lake were included on the agenda of advanced biology activities, where students checked the types of plants and algae found in those areas. Trips to the Purdue Columet Library were designed to provide students with opportunities for research on individual projects.

Elements, compounds, and mixtures were terms frequently used by chemistry students in performing and writing up experiments.

Physic students spent most of their time working on various problems and experiments.

But being opperclassmen of a meant added work. Throughout the year they kept busy raising maney for their prom. Selling magazine subscriptions, running the concession stand of games, and giving a sac hop were just a few of their profilects.

Just as the mailman always cames through with his mail, so did the juniors. They managed to keep the football field fairly clean. This is one of the expensivitities of heters a basic part.

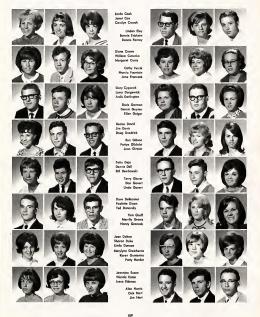

Junior Closs was mighty proud when they captured first place for the best float in the Homecoming parade, with "Spectin" a Victory."

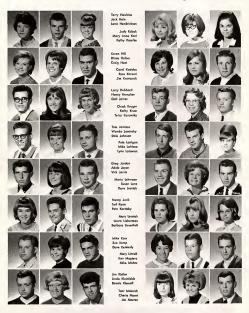

Junior Class officers who guided their class in the planning and Stancing of the prom, were Under Eley, president, Robert Wilson, vice-president; Nancy Jurik, secretary; Sally Newhard, treasures, Adulton per Mr. Stellmekh and Mr. Worse,

Administration Keeps GHS Running Smoothly

Mr. Floyd Davis takes time out for a few moments of reloxation from his busy schedule as vice-principal.

Keeping GHS running smoothly occupies most of the administration's time. Mr. Forrest S. Sheely, principal, is at the head of this organization. Besides overseeing all operation, he is intensely interested in individual as well as school achievements and in the general welfare of the students.

Mr. Floyd F. Davis, assistant principal, is not only a counselor, but he has the additional responsibility of being the sports coordinator.

Mrs. Mary Plough, office secretary, handles general management of the main office. Mrs. Evelyn Downing, A-V secretory, is in charge of the ditto equipment.

Mr. Jomes Garretson, head counselor, does his best to keep the student body informed about college boards and scholarship information.

Mr. Sidney Voughon is in charge of the Audio-Visual besides counseling three periods a day.

Mrs. Grace Ashmore plays the role of school treasurer. Mr. Charles O'Rourke, director of pupil personnel, keeps attendance records.

Mr. Gorretton, head counselor, checks over students' report cords making sure there are no arrors

Mr. Yaughn, courselor, is never too busy to take time out to discuss a student's problems with the potents.

Always willing to help is Mrs. Mary Plobg, main office secretary.

Busy checking over money orders is Mrs. Grace Ashmare, school treasurer.

School Board Plans, Discusses Schools' Future

Board members and secretaries include Mrs. Leono Kone, secretory, Mr. Baymond Underwood, Mr. Bonold Regiser, Mr. Millard Christenson, and Mrs. Audrey Potterson, secretory.

The superintendent with the aid of his stoff and school board conducts a million-dollar business. To keep a business of this size running efficiently and smoothly requires ingenuity, ability, and a lot of hord work.

Curricular and administrative policy is the responsibility of the superintendent and his stoff. School policy is set by the school board.

Administrative duties vary from hiring competent teachers to arranging adequate bus schedules,

Many long hours are spent preparing the budget and anticipating the curricular needs to accommodate students in a fast-growing community.

Coordinating curriculum to meet the needs of both callege-bound and vocational students requires a great deal of skill and time.

Mr. Karnath Marifold is assistant superintendent for business affairs.

Mr. William Cheever, superintendent, looks over school plans.

Congeniality Makes Custodians, Cooks Assets

Files Barney, Files O'Conner, (TOP BOW) Louise Searcer, Thomas Coward, and Julia Hopks

Keeping Griffith High School arderly and in good repair are the main jobs of the custodial staff. Friendly smiles and a willingness to help make GHS custodians unjoue.

Driving buses is another important phase in the custadians' work. Drivers are extremely particular in exercising safety precautions at all times.

Cooking stoff members are onather important phase of this system. Meals one carefully planned to insure students of a well-balenced but delicious lunch. The "short line" is another convenience students erjoy. Hotdags, hamburgers, barbacues, caikes, piles, coakies, milk, potato kipig, and peanuts are oil avail-

Cooking staff members include Mrs. Jane Rigg, Mrs. Barbara Brill, Mrs. Algera Hart, Mrs. Daris Marlowe, Mrs. Fern Taylor, and Mrs. Yvanne Crank.

Friendly Clerks, Good Service, Quality Goods

Are Commonplace Among Calumet Region Stores

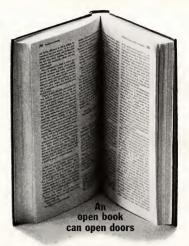

Scheerings's is one of the many stores in the area which employs students from GHS

Many of the needs of Griffith High students are fulfilled each year by the Calumet merchants. Friendly clerks and good service and merchandise are commanplace in the places of business of Griffith merchants.

Griffith students continue to patronize local merchants long after they have graduated from high school.

Mrs. Josephine Mottox has her hair done by Charles.

in our recruiting we sek that applicants have completed their High School education. That's because we try cloveys to fill higher, more responsible jobs from the reaks of our employees. And the records show—the better the employee's education, the better he lis at his job—and the better he does for himself.

Inlend employees continue to gein knowledge and experience in special tradee through formal apprenticeship programs offered in the following tredes—Mechinist, Petternmeking, Bollermeking, Welding, Shop Electricien, Wiremen, Meson and Pipefitter.

Many concentrate on certain phases of steelmaking by working in production while others work in leboretories helping to assure quelity or developing new and better products for our customers.

Hard Work By Staff With Help Of Many

Produces 1966 Edition

Griffith High's 1966 Reflector was published by many persons and no one person cetting olone. The book was ance again printed by American Yearbook Company in Honnibal, Missouri. Mr. Robert Hostings, representative from the company, helped greatly in choice of the cover design and the colors.

The Reflector was printed an 100 pound enomel paper. Sporton type makes up the body copy of the bode which is 10-goint type, and the cutilines consist of 8-goint type, and the cutilines consist of 8-goint type, Lydion and Dom Cossol were the type faces used for the headlines. 24-point Lydion was used an oil pages except distant and theme pages where 35-point Dom Cossol was used to give variety to the soction.

Walinger Studia is responsible for the pictures in the book, especially Dick Dickus who helped the stoff enormously in coming up with ideas for them.

Another debt of grollitude is extended to Mr. Scheely for oil his help, Mr. Davis for his assistance in obtaining permission for us to toke pictures in the gym and auditorium, the scretaries especially Mrs. Groce Ashmore for keeping the account, and Mrs. Evelyn Downing for running things off in the oudio-vidual room.

A special thanks is extended to all classroom teachers for their patience in letning stoff members and other students out of class in order to take pictures, and wark on deadlines.

Lost but not least, all parents that

Lost but not least, all parents that helped us in producing the book are thanked by all the staff members and Mr. Woodring, adviser.

Memories Reviewed As 1966 Reflector Comes To Close

"Solisfaction is the reward of hard work." No one also will ever know the joy of seeing ans's work put together and really turn out as something—and sta a picture with copy A as a cultine and posted on page 42. Now it all is put away far next year's staff—broken pica rulers, malfunctioning proportion scales, and greate penalis which always brook of the wange times.

I'll never be able to thank everyone for all the help and cooperation hey gove me, especially my stoff and Mr. Jerry Woodring, my odviser. A special thanks to my parents and everyone else wha helped in keeping cold dinners warm and coffee perking for thase late hours we keep itsit before the deadline.

May all those who leaf through this book taday and in years to came find it as satisfying and full of memories as I do.
